your wedding bridal expos

Bridal expos are a great opportunity to meet and talk to professional bridal services. You will find everything you need to plan your perfect wedding. And it is a chance to view what the bridal services have to offer. You will be able to flick through photographers' portfolios, to sit in a variety of cars and get a feeling for how you would like to arrive at your ceremony, and marvel at beautiful table settings laid out by reception venues. You will see flower displays, stationery, jewellery, and if you are still looking for your gown, bridal expos usually have fashion parades showcasing fabulous designs for the bride as well as the groom, bridesmaids and flowergirls. Even the small details of your wedding, such as bomboniere and favours, will be on display.

Bridal expos often have hundreds of exhibitors, which can be very overwhelming. Plan to make a day of it, bring along at least one of your bridesmaids, sister or your mother, and if he'll come, your groom-to-be. If it all becomes too much, stop for a coffee and cake and work out what services you wish to see next.

Many services offer discounts if you book at the expo, so if you are looking for bargains be prepared to book then and there.

A Your Wedding checklist – bridal expos

- Bring a pen to fill out the coupons for the many competitions that are on offer
- Get your bridesmaid, friend, sister or mother to fill out these coupons for you while you are talking to the bridal service
- Have a couple of questions in mind for each bridal service so that you get the information you require
- Collect as much information as you can, to go through once you get home.
